Conservation Congress Resolution

The Problem:

WHEREAS, The local population of the Canadian Geese are abundant within the county and state so the problem that we are having is that we feel that the timing of the harvesting for the local geese is incorrect. Are we really being conservationist by not having a favorable harvest season.

WHEREAS, This resolution is not to interfere with the migration flight but to place a season for the local flocks.

WHEREAS, We are proposing a special season for local resident geese only. Proposing a season for the last 15 days of December and also add another 15 day season in January with substantial limit.

WHEREAS, the present, state law does not permit special goose hunting seasons but we feel that Wisconsin should consider this as an option because of abundant resident local geese.

See attach references:

THEREFORE, be it resolved, the Conservation Congress at its annual meeting held in Pierce County on April 10, 2006, recommends that the Department of Natural Resources take action to correct this situation by introducing rule changes allowing a special season for local geese only.
